

WRITTEN LANGUAGE PRACTICE

Rewrite the sentences using the correct pronoun. Change them into interrogative and negative.

Model: Helen is a student here.
She is a student here.

Int. Is she a student here?

Neg. She isn't a student here.

a) Peter and John are classmates.

Int. _____

Neg. _____

b) This book is good.

Int. _____

Neg. _____

c) Cliff is a good friend.

Int. _____

Neg. _____

d) The trees are big.

Int. _____

Neg. _____

e) The students are tired.

Int. _____

Neg. _____

2. Ask and answer questions according to the pictures.
Use this, that, these or those.

Model:

What are those?
Those are trees.

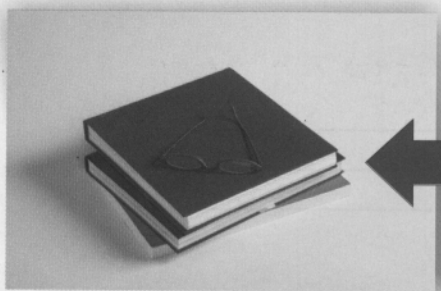

a) _____

b) _____

c) _____

d) _____

e) _____

f) _____

PROGRESS CHECK

1. Look at the picture and answer the questions with: in, on, behind, in front of, under, over.

a) Where is the recipe book?

b) Where are the dishes?

c) Where is the cat?

d) Where is the housewife?

e) Where is the baby?

f) Where is the lamp?

2. Fill in the blanks using the Present Continuous of the verbs in parentheses:

1) _____ Mark _____ (watch) TV now?
No, he _____ (play) a computer game.

2) I _____ (not have) lunch at home. I _____
(eat) at a pizza place.

3) _____ the girls _____ (write) a composition?
No, they _____ (do) their Spanish homework.

4) What _____ you _____ (do) right now?
I _____ (help) mom in the kitchen.

3. Circle the correct answer.

Mrs. Clinton:	Jack, is there (any / no) meat in the freezer?
Mr. Clinton:	Yes, there is (some / many).
Mrs. Clinton:	(How many / How much) meat is there exactly, Jack?
Mr. Clinton:	Let me see.... There are ten pounds of beef.
Mrs. Clinton:	(How much / How many) eggs are there on the shelf?
Mr. Clinton:	There are (much, many), uh, seven to be precise.
Mrs. Clinton:	Are there (little / any) apples in there?
Mr. Clinton:	Yes, but not (many / few). There are only three.
Mrs. Clinton:	What about milk? Is there (many / much) milk in the bottle?
Mr. Clinton:	There is (some / a lot of), but not (much / little). And... Frances, there are (little / few) oranges but there is (lots of / many) orange juice.
Mrs. Clinton:	Thanks for your help, Jack.
Mr. Clinton:	You are welcome, honey.

FLASH

Count Nouns many ≠ few	Non-Count Nouns much ≠ little
cans of beer	beer
bottles of juice	juice
slices of bread	bread
apples	butter
oranges	meat
glasses	food
rooms	room / space
dollars	money
people	paper

sheet of paper

